

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Does the deadline refer to the date when Europa Nostra has to receive the dossier, or the last day for us to post the dossier?

The deadline is the last day for applicants to send out the dossier by post. This means that the post stamp on the package should be, at the latest, the deadline date.

Example: If the deadline is 01-Sep-2005, this means that you should post the package before or on the 1st of September 2005. Not that Europa Nostra should have the dossier by that date.

2. What should I include in the package I send by post?

Look at the applicants guide and the entry form for the category you are applying for. The entry form has a checklist of items you should have included in your application. Make sure you send a printed full copy of the duly filled entry form, and of any publications you might wish to submit.

3. What should I include in the CD's I send by post?

Look at the applicants guide and the entry form for the category you are applying for.

4. Can I send additional material that is not requested in the entry form or the applicants guide?

Yes, you can send any additional material you wish and that you consider completes your dossier.

If you chose to do so, make sure that the items in the entry form checklist are also being submitted, since these are compulsory and if one of them is missing, the dossier will be considered incomplete.

5. My project is sponsored by private funds, is it still eligible for an award?

Yes, private sponsorship does not disqualify a project from being a candidate.

6. Can I apply to more than one category with the same project?

No. Each project can be for one category only. If you think your project covers more than one category, read the applicants guides for the different categories and decide which one of them describes your project better.

7. Can I submit two projects?

Yes. You can submit more than one project. Each project will get its own and independent registration number.
